Unit 9

Asking Questions See more in membership ...

Questions which ask for information begin with question words: what, where, when, why, who, whose, which, how. The question word comes first, then a form of the verb to be or the auxiliary verb, and then the subject.

TIP Auxiliary verbs are have, will, would, can, could, shall, should, may, might, and must.

The thief was in the art room. → Where was the thief?

And when there is no auxiliary verb, use do or did to make a question.

Mavis goes to the museum. → When does Mavis go to the museum?

They stopped the thief. → How did they stop the thief?

Subject / Object Questions

Look at these sentences.

Who stole the picture? The thief stole the picture.

What happened next? Something exciting happened.

Who stopped the thief? Mavis stopped the thief.

In the questions, the verb is the same as it is in the affirmative sentence, and the word order does not change. The question word is the subject of the affirmative sentence.

Look at these sentences.

Who did Mavis stop? Mavis stopped the thief. (Mavis is the subject. Who is the object.)

In the question above, the question word is the object of the sentence.

Make the question with a form of do. Compare:

Somebody stopped the thief. Who?

Who stopped the thief? (Who is the subject.)

Mavis stopped somebody. Who?

Match the questions to the answers.

Unit 11

Passive •

In English, we can often say things in two ways, using the active and the passive. The ash buries the crops. (active) The crops are buried by the ash. (passive)

We often put the most important information at the start of the sentence. In the first sentence, the focus is on the ash. In the second sentence, the focus is on the crops. Make the simple present passive with subject + am / is / are + past participle (seen, played, etc).

Affirmative

The noise is heard from far away. People are told when it is dangerous.

Negative

Magma isn't made from gas. Their houses aren't damaged.

Questions

Short Answers Is the mountain destroyed by the volcano? Yes, it is. / No, it isn't.

Are the people taken away by bus? Yes, they are. / No, they aren't.

Use the passive when you don't know or it isn't important who or what does the action.

People are taken to safety. (e.g. by helicopter)

(by pressure in the mountain) Magma is pushed to the surface.

Use by to say who or what does the action.

People are asked to leave by the police. Crops are buried by the ash.

Remember! You can't use some verbs (such as cry, die, arrive, wait) in the passive voice.

Rewrite the sentences in passive voice.

- 1. He opens the door. -
- 2. We set the table. -

3. She pays a lot of mo	ney

Unit 12

Simple Past Passive

Use the passive to emphasize the action or if you do not know who did the action.

When was the museum opened?

It was opened in 1980.

A 1930s street wasn't added until 2010.

Make the simple past passive with subject + was / were + past participle (seen, played etc).

Affirmative: The village was opened.

Negative: The fairground and the movie theater weren't moved until later.

Questions: Were lots of other buildings moved at that time?

Yes, they were. / No, they weren't.

The past participle is often the same as the simple past form of the verb.

However, some of the most common English verbs have irregular past participles, e.g. eat \rightarrow eaten; have \rightarrow had; swim \rightarrow swum. There is a list on page 112.

Use by to show who did the action.

The idea was discussed in the 1950s by a group of librarians.

Complete these sentences with the verbs in brackets. Use the past simple passive.

 Lamps and candles 	for light, because there was no electricity. (use)

Unit 13

Adjectives and Adverbs =

You usually put adjectives before nouns.

Adjectives describe people and things.

He had muddy shoes.

He wore dirty clothes.

He imagined cold drinks and tasty chicken.

When you use the verb to be, or when you use sense verbs, put adjectives after the verb. He felt tired and hungry. The party was fun.

See Unit 15 for more information about this.

Adverbs describe verbs. Adverbs of manner tell us how something happens. They usually go after the verb.

He walked silently into the room. People smiled warmly at him.

To form an adverb of manner, you usually add -ly to the adjective.

 $calm \rightarrow calmly$

 $careful \rightarrow carefully$

wise \rightarrow wisely

Note: $happy \rightarrow happily$

gentle \rightarrow gently

Remember! Some adverbs are irregular.

 $good \rightarrow well$

 $fast \rightarrow fast$

These adverbs can only come after the verb: well, hard, fast

He went home fast. ✓

He fast went home. X

Adverbs of frequency tell us how often something happens. They go before the verb.

The rich man often has a party for the townspeople.

These are adverbs of frequency: always usually often sometimes never

Unreal Conditional

Use unreal conditionals to talk about something that probably won't happen.

You can imagine something is different from the real situation now.

If we turned off the lights, we would save electricity. (But we don't turn off the lights.)

Unreal conditionals have two clauses:

If clause + main clause

If + simple past + would / wouldn't + verb .

If we turned off the lights, we would save electricity.

If we had classes four days a week, the school would use less electricity.

The main clause can come first.

The school would use less electricity if we had classes four days a week.

When the if clause comes first, add a comma. When the if clause comes second, don't add a comma.

Choose the best answer to complete the sentence and describe the picture using an unreal conditional.

- 1. If you read a book,
- a) you hadn't felt so bored while you wait.
- b) you didn't feel so bored while you wait.
- c) you wouldn't feel so bored while you wait.
